LARGEST COMPETITION OF NORTH AMERICAN WINES

The name Firepit comes from the Kent family’s flagstone bonfire pit, which has appeared on the label for the last few vintages. Our Firepit blend brings together several different red wines, just as sitting around a bonfire can bring together a group of different people.

Evocative aromas of mulling spices and ripe red fruits are joined by slightly charred marshmallow. (Just a happy coincidence- it doesn’t always remind us of this!) The palate matches the aromatics. Winemaker Julian Halasz noted “nutmeg,” “baking spice,” and “cassis,” on the palate, with a strawberry jam on buttered toast finish.
