This Sauvignon Blanc comes from the two coolest sites of the acclaimed Crane Ridge micro-region. These neighboring blocks experience constant breezes and a thick blanket of coastal fog each morning, and are nestled between orchards of olive, hazelnut, oak- and yes- pistachio trees.

This wine is 100% estate-grown, produced and bottled by the Kent family, and made alongside master winemaker Julian Halasz.

Darcie Kent donates proceeds of each bottle sold to the preservation of farmlands and natural spaces in our winegrowing region.

WINEMAKER'S NOTE BY JULIAN HALASZ

Kiwi, pineapple, waxy yellow pepper and a hint of wasabi, this bone-dry and refreshing wine is fruit forward, with a long honeycomb starch finish.
